

Dr Amy Webster (MBCChB Hons, MRCP, FRCPath, PGDip) graduated from the University of Birmingham in 2008 and has undergone postgraduate training in the Midlands region. She gained her CCT in Haematology in May 2018 and has been working as a consultant haematologist at University Hospitals of Leicester (UHL) since. She specialises in non-malignant haematology, with a specific focus in haemoglobinopathy and obstetric haematology. She is the clinical lead for the East Midlands sickle cell haemoglobinopathy coordinating centre based at UHL.