

Dr Atul Gupta is Clinical Lead and Consultant in Paediatric Medicine at King's College Hospital, and an Associate Professor in Paediatric Respiratory Medicine. Dr Gupta is also the Research and Innovation Lead for Variety Children's Hospital at King's College Hospital and is an active member of the respiratory research team at King's. His research interests centre on severe asthma and airway disease. He has written widely on respiratory-related conditions and has over 100 published papers. Dr Gupta has been invited to lecture internationally in Europe, North America, the Middle East and Asia. Dr Gupta has been awarded the Somu Oration award in 2019 (Indian Academy of Paediatrics), the Lobar Prize (Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health), the James Fellowship (British Medical Association), the VASR Memorial Gold Medal, and the S.S. Manchanda Research Gold Medal.