

Michelle Cummins qualified from Charing Cross & Westminster Medical School in 1992 and trained in Haematology in London and Bristol. In 2005, she was appointed as Consultant Paediatric Haematologist at Bristol Royal Hospital for Children. She is the Lead for paediatric Haemoglobinopathy and Red cell disorders for Bristol and South West and with adult colleagues, deliver the Haemoglobinopathy Coordinating Centre service for the region. She is also the local Paediatric Lead for Transfusion.